ROCK- MUN

2022

2022 ROCKMUN ROCKED! !

MOKSHAGNA
KADIYALA

After a two-year sabbatical, The RockMUN has finally returned. Over 350 delegates participated in the student-led event, each of whom voiced their thoughts in a heated back-and-forth debate.

When our principal announced that the RockMUN would return this year, I was overjoyed and immediately applied for a position. 16 people instantly formed a group and were really motivated to make the MUN a success. We encountered some difficulties early on, as any team would, but after resolving our disagreements, we had a strategy in place.

A strategy to develop a venue where participants can showcase their crucial professional and public speaking abilities while studying diplomacy, international relations, and current issues. Each person was putting in extra time as the MUN days approached. Working during the school day, remaining after school, and working throughout lunch. Everything was typical. But nobody voiced a complaint. In fact, we were the ones who decided to put in more time because we want perfection.

9 December. Finally, the MUN's opening day had come. The moment the doors opened, the attendees barged in, and it appeared as though we had opened a portal to a universe full of aspirational kids eager to debate and discuss global concerns. The school, where I had been going every day, was filled with a breath of fresh air. Following the gavel-drop by the secretary general signaling the commencement of RockMUN 2022 the noisy hallways had gone silent and all the work we had done for the past couple of months could be seen in peaceful silence.

While I was going around to different committees, I came out of each one with a new perspective. It is amazing to see how kids, who are relatively new to the world, can come up with such unique and thought-provoking ideas. It is a reminder of the power of creativity and imagination, and how they can be used to make a difference in our society.

Day 2's social night was a blast. Everyone got the break they needed and let their stress out through dancing, making it an exciting and adrenaline-pumping experience. Day 2 and Day 3 passed quickly, but as the closing ceremony got underway, I couldn't help but feel sad. The experience of hosting the RockMUN is unlike any other. You get to witness first-hand how passionate students come together from all over to share ideas and collaborate on solutions for global problems. It's an amazing opportunity for everyone involved, and it's something that will stay with me forever.

VISHWATEJA BOLLIKONDA
SECRETARY GENERAL

Vishwateja Bollikonda is a 10th grade CBSE student in rockwell and has more MUN experience than anyone else in the secretariat combined, having been to multiple MUNs. He has a knack for talking about the political and economical state of the world and will never back down from an active debate no matter with whom he is debating against.

ANIRUDH VANAMALI
USG POLICIES

You could say that he looks like he's dead inside and well you would not be wrong. Surprisingly though, it does look like he has some skill points left over to invest in his smarts after spending almost all of them on his height. I have never felt any more envious of someone's ability to manage their time and stay sane in my entire life.

MOKSHAGNA KADIYALA
USG INFO&TECH

Moksh is an A-level student and a mellow kid who barely talks and even when he does, only half of his sentences are understood but that's not a problem because he's happy in his own world and not really bothered with unnecessary things. He's very good at digital art and has designed over 20 logos for a commission, if you've got questions about art theory, he's the go-to person.

SRIHAAS PARUCHURU

DIRECTOR GENERAL

When he isn't fawning over Yuno from black clover, he's skipping classes to attend his sports practices, living up to his position as sports secretary in the student council. He is an unconventional combination between a jock and a weeb. A man of very few words but will talk your ear off about giannis and the bucks. His dream is to one day fly across the Atlantic and pursue his undergraduate studies in business & finance.

KRISHIV KOLANU

CHIEF ADVISOR

Krishiv is an A-level student who's sporty for no good reason, he says he's highly motivated but all I've seen him get inspired over are Anish's dramatically useless ideas. He is deeply passionate about cars and dreams of becoming a car journalist one day. He's also a master at finding solutions without panicking, chilling with friends, and vibing to Telugu songs.

KUMARI AARUSHI

USG INFO & TECH

Aarushi just lacks chill, but her unnecessary worry for various things sometimes actually gets things done. She is Michelangelo, and the RockMUN website (which you should totally check out) is her Sistine Chapel, a labor of love that she has quite literally given up everything for, including her sanity, which we all dearly miss. Maybe once she becomes a licensed Psychologist as she plans to do, she'll learn to be chill.

JOSHUA SUNIL
USG LOGISTICS

Arguably the most placid of the group, he provides a much needed relief from the chaos of the conference room. Polite, agreeable and peace-loving one can only wonder why he had the unfortunate luck to end up with this unruly bunch.

MAANYA BETHA
USG LOGISTICS

Apart from constantly getting yelled at by Anish, she usually spends her day puzzling others by complimenting them out of nowhere. In her free time, she studies Biology, Physics, Maths, Chemistry and English, and writes impressive songs that I think should be put on Spotify. Her favorite pastimes include bunking English, regularly losing access to her phone, making reels and designing clothes her mom will never let her wear.

ADITHI BOPPANA
USG FINANCE

Adithi is in the 10th IGCSE but the thing that she actually enjoys being in is the school basketball team. She says she loves Game of Thrones but isn't she way too young for that? She also volunteers at the Blue cross in her free time and is looking to pursue a career in Business Management.

DEEPTHI MADDALA

INTERNATIONAL PRESS

When Deepthi isn't pondering over paradoxes or having an existential crisis about something that probably won't matter, this homebody does everything she can to avoid doing anything she doesn't need to. If you're wondering why then, well all I can tell you is that in her eyes chilling at home with a coffee reading Albert Camus gives her way more catharsis than having any unnecessary contact with the outside world could.

BHARATI GANGIREDDY

INTERNATIONAL PRESS

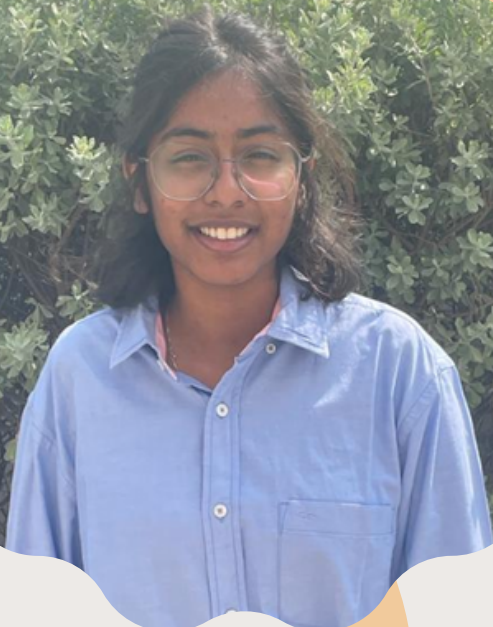

Bharathi is an AS Level student of Business and Economics, which probably makes it pretty weird that she's not in the finance department. It's not like her talents are being wasted though, seeing as her talent lies in writing (which she's been doing for 8 long years of her current lifespan), and in debuting new makeup looks for every day of the week. She's a diehard fan of books she's sure no one else has read - she'll be very impressed if you can talk H.P Lovecraft with her - but is also down to debate who Attack on Titan's bestgirl is. A talker (a very...intense...one), an extrovert, and a Leo (she wants you to know it), there's never a dull moment with her - and nobody's sure if that's a good thing

DHRITI GANDHAM

INTERNATIONAL PRESS

Dhriti is an A level student studying English, business and Economics. She has a faisa mokka in her balcony, where she spends most of her time in a state of curiosity and mystery. She can discuss cinema for hours on end and believes in variety in desserts and a standardised style in clothes. Her pastimes include, coming up with eccentric quotes that make perfect sense in her own head, obsessively dusting the books on her shelf, and dreaming with her eyes open. Professionally, she wants to become a cross between Trivikram and phoebe Waller bridge.

Darsh Nimbalkar Charge of affaires

THIS GUY LOOKS DECEIVINGLY INNOCENT BUT IS THE MOST SAVAGE DUDE ON THE WHOLE PLANET WHO MAKES JOKES THAT ARE UNFIT OF HIS POSITION ON THE STUDENT COUNCIL. HE'S THE 'CREED' IN OUR CONFERENCE ROOM WHO SITS QUIETLY ONLY TO MAKE FUNNY, UNLIKELY AND ON POINT REMARKS DURING THE PERFECTLY CHOSEN MOMENTS.

Ekaansh Bukkapatnam Charge of affaires

HE'S THE BASKETBALL PLAYER WHO DOESN'T ACT HIS HEIGHT EVEN DURING GAMES BUT HE'S THE JACK OF ALL TRADES WHO DOESN'T BREAK A SWEAT WHILE JUGGLING BOTH SPORTS AND STUDIES.

ANISH
REDDY MARKETING

In his own words, Anish has a cavernous passion for finding the most creative ways to waste his time. When he's not bunking classes and playing basketball all day with the Head Boy badge ironically resting on his chest, he's sleeping in classes, getting A*s and studiously preparing for his well-planned future as a physicist. This man is a perfect amalgamation of amusement and academics. And oftentimes, in the eyes of a few of our secretariat members, he's a god with an abayahastham for a hand.

Devya is an A-level student studying Chemistry, Physics, Math, and Art, her skill is passable in the first three courses but extraordinary in the last one. She's the kind of person who would appreciate an engraving pen for a gift, believe me, you've gotta be an inventive and artistic person to not find that thing lame, I've tried gifting it to many people. She's approachable, easy to talk to, and mostly gets what you say, mostly. She doesn't make too many great jokes but wholeheartedly laughs at your jokes with you, and that's enough to make your day. And lastly, she has hair longer than my future.

DEVYA
